THE Chairman of the Indiana Repub hean State Committee calls on the party to hold county conventions on January 21 to organize for the Presidential can vaes. This displays a commendable earnestness on the part of the Republi cans. Indiana had fallen into the despicable practice of going Democratic in most elections, but has reformed recently, however. In 1886 the Republicans carried the state for the principal official chosen that year, and also elected seven of the thirteen members which it sends to the National House of Representatives, as compared with four chosen in the preceding convass. There is good reason to believe that Indians has placed itself permanently in the Republican In Arizona, with the mercury occasioncolumn.-Globe-Democrat.

Washington, January 9 .- A decision has been rendered in the case of James Hawaii respectively. Plaintiffs who appeared are New York merchants who imported in 1882 from San Domingo a the Saudwich Islands. The collector exacted duties on these San Domingo sugars amounting to $22,000, paying same under protest. They then brought suit against the government to recover the amount exacted on the ground that by virtue of article 9 of the treaty between the United States and San Dorunner of the new era of prosperity upon mingo the United States was debarred from imposing a higher duty or any other duty upon the products of Domingo than imposed upon similar products of other countries with which the United the way from 25 to 52 degrees below States might have commercial relations. Sugare similar to those in controversy were imported free of duty from the Sandwich Islands, and under treaty provisions, they therefore contended they should be admitted free from San Domingo. The court held first:

The ninth article of the treaty between the United States and San Domingo merely pledges the contracting parties that there should be no discrin in legislation against imported articles from either country in favor of products of like character from any other country. It was never designed to prevent specis concessions like those granted Hawaii upon sufficient considerations for importing specific articles. The clearest language necessary to justify the con clusion that the United States govern ment intended to preclude itself from coming, especially the poor emigrants such engagements with other countries

The set of congress under which this case the exaction of duties were suthorized the collector, was of general application, making no exception in favor of goods of any country and passed after the treaty with the San Domingo Republic. If there is any conflict between laws and treaties the former must prevail. The country that is disentiafied with the action of this legislation ought to address its complaints to the executive head of the government and take measures which it deems essential to protect its own interests, when the law, clear in its validity cannot be assailed before the courts for want of conformity with treaty stipulations. The judgment of the United States supreme court is in favor of the collector and therefore affirmed a similar decision rendered in the case of Hugh Kelly vs., Edward L. Hedden. Had this dteision een adverse to the government, the United States would have had to pay many millions of dollars as refunds for duties exacted as above. The suits were test cases. Justice Field wrote the
